

WEEK 5 OF 4 · Body

Script 5: The Puppet Master (Alignment)Theme: Posture and Structure

Rationale: Poor posture leads to injury and weak technique. This script uses the image of a string to align the spine effortlessly.

Request students sit or stand in a neutral position.

"When we get tired, we slump. A slumped spine is a weak spine. Settle into your stance.

I want you to imagine a golden string attached to the very top of your head. Imagine a giant hand gently pulling that string upward toward the ceiling. Feel your neck get long. Feel your chin tuck slightly. Feel your spine lengthen, creating space between each vertebra.

Notice how your chest opens up naturally without you having to force it. Your structure is now tall and regal. Memorize this feeling. This is the posture of a master — relaxed but upright."
